The Moving Finger writes; and, having writ,
Moves on: nor all your Piety nor Wit
Shall lure it back to cancel half a Line,
Nor all your Tears wash out a Word of it.

FOREWORD

At some stage in each of our lives, there inevitably comes the revelation that time is truly irrevocable. We then realize that we have no alternative other than the acknowledgment and acceptance of this basic truth. There exists no magic formula that will enable us to cancel that which is done; these deeds will remain forged forever on the tablet of time.

During the past four years we, the Class of 1957, have shared a multitude of joys and triumphs, as well as occasional sorrows and defeats. We offer this TALISMAN as a living record of these, our treasured memories.

DEDICATION

TO MRS. ELIZABETH GREENE

Whose service to countless students of Rutland High School, both as teacher and librarian, has been so unselfishly given

Whose love of books has, we hope, rubbed off on us at least a little as she answered our questions, helped us find material for that last-minute report, or showed us the pleasure of just browsing in the library

Whose untiring efforts have made our library one of the best in the state

We, the Class of 1957, proudly dedicate our TALISMAN

Rutland Public Schools
The High School
Rutland, Vermont

MAYNARD C. ROBINSON
PRINCIPAL

To the Class of 1957:
CONGRATULATIONS!

During the past four years you have grown from childhood to young maturity. You have increased in wisdom and in stature. You have prepared yourselves for higher education or for places in the business or industrial life of our community.

We, your teachers, share with you a measure of pride in your achievements during your preparatory years at Rutland High School. We shall follow your careers with interest, rejoicing in your successes, and understanding when you fail.

Above all, we shall wish for you the strength of character, the honesty, the compassion, the sense of humor, the wisdom, and the moral fibre that you will need to meet life successfully and to stand tall among the men and women of your generation.

Congratulations! Best wishes for your future.

FELLOW CLASSMATES

As one phase of our lives, our high school education, becomes history, we find ourselves with a store of priceless memories—of people, places, activities—upon which to dwell. During our four years together, we have enjoyed many things, but we have benefited even more. The friendships we have formed are as much a part of our education as the books we have studied. Our total selves have been educated.

Under sound guidance we have received another most important part of our total education. This training, the development of character, is the most important phase of the education which we have received. Our experiences in all departments of high school life have impressed upon us the importance of forming the kind of character which will be for our individual good and for the good of that society in which we shall soon take our places.

As we face the future, we are grateful for the preparation which we have received here. Our gratitude lies not in the fact that we have already benefited, but in the fact that we shall continue to derive benefit from the education which Rutland High School has afforded us.

HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF 1957

The moving finger has traced irrevocably on the annals of time the events, tumultuous and trivial, of our four years as students of Rutland High School.

FRESHMAN YEAR

We began our high school careers in 1953, the year in which Mr. Robinson became principal of Rutland High School. In September, 168 in number, we were welcomed at the Freshman Reception, "Dragnet." We elected Charles Lull, Angela Hinchey, and Debby Butterfield to serve as president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer, respectively. Our class has been rich in athletic ability and sportsmanship. Charles Lull and Wayne King received their football letters as freshmen. Several of the boys were on the J.V. basketball team, while Jim Burke received his letter for participation in baseball. The boys were cheered on by Sandy Anderson, Debby Butterfield, Donna Monroe, Irene Burke, and Nancy Leonard as J.V. cheerleaders. Joanne Wood was chosen to serve as majorette. "A Portrait of Nelson Holiday Jr.," our freshman play, was very successful, starring many talented members of our group. Several of our classmates were chosen in March to serve the school as writers and solicitors for the Red and White. Brenda Hubbard won the position of secretary-treasurer of the Student Council for the coming year.

SOPHOMORE YEAR

Charles Lull, having served the class well in his first year, was again elected president. Jim Burke and Tony Abatiell filled the positions of vice-president and secretary-treasurer. Football letters were presented to Charles Lull, Wayne King, and Buzzy Grady. Again several members of the class were on the J.V. basketball team. John Maynes, Harry Horton, and Charles Lull earned baseball letters in the spring. A new system of choosing J.V. cheerleaders was inaugurated and this year the girls chosen to support the team were Betty Jean Reedy, Nancy Houghton, Donna Monroe, Debby Butterfield, Claire Padolecchia, Irene Burke, Joanna Bartlett, Nancy Leonard, Loretta Bowen, Mary Prespare, Carol Tyler, and Sandy Anderson. At the end of the year Mary Prespare, Sandy Anderson, Debby Butterfield, Nancy Houghton, and Irene Burke were chosen as varsity cheerleaders. "Pussy Willow Pounce," our Sophomore Hop, was our first project as a class. Lois Wilder and Robert Swanson received their band letters from Mr. Low at the music department banquet in May. Susan Smith, Mark Tucker, and Joanna Bartlett became assistant editors of the Red and White, while Jim Carroll took over as sports editor. Charles Lull was elected vice-president of the Student Council.

JUNIOR YEAR

Joe Vargas was elected president of the class as our junior year began. Lowell Harris and Betsy Patten took the oath of office with him as vice-president and secretary-treasurer, respectively. Charles Lull, Wayne King, Bob Carrara, Sam Ezzo, Buzzy Grady, Leo Kupferor, Cecil White, Jim Burke, and John Maynes received football letters. On the basis of his fine play in the Raider line, Bob Carrara was named to the All State first team. Jim Burke and Charles Lull received basketball letters for the first time. Sally Edmunds presented a striking figure as head majorette.

"Opus In Pastels," our Junior Prom, was presented in May. This highly successful social event was under the skillful leadership of co-chairmen Brenda Hubbard and Jim Carroll. Rudd Hendee won the Rutland District Edmunds Essay Contest. His essay also received honorable mention in the state-wide competition. Rudd also won the Rotary Scholarship to attend Shawnee Leadership Institute. Earle Stevens was awarded the Harvard Book Prize at the graduation exercises of the class of '56. John Maynes, Charles Lull, and Harry Horton were awarded letters for their efforts on the baseball diamond. Joanna Bartlett, Judy Briggs, Sharon Hostler, Charles Lull, Peggy Mangan, John Martel, and John Maynes were inducted into the National Honor Society. John Martel, John Maynes, Jim Carroll, Charles Lull, Arlyn Hawley, Phil Pinkowski, John Hinsman, and George Bradley represented R.H.S. at Boys' State. Bruce Belden was the representative from Danby. Sharon Hostler, Joanna Bartlett, Betsy Patten, Betsy Ravit, and Debby Butterfield were selected to attend Girls' State. Sharon Hostler was chosen a delegate from Vermont to Girls' Nation in Washington, D.C. Linda Ward was chosen a delegate to the Future Homemakers of America convention in Chicago.

SENIOR YEAR

In September 1956, 140 strong, we returned to the familiar halls of Rutland High for our last year. We welcomed the last freshman class at R.H.S. with an entertainment by the seniors, followed by a very successful dance in the gym. This first social event of the year was under the co-chairmanship of Sandy Anderson, Judy Briggs, Brenda Hubbard, Jim Carroll, Rudd Hendee, and Tony Abatiell. October saw Jim Carroll take office as president of our senior class. John Maynes, Rudd Hendee, and Sharon Hostler were elected to office also. Rudd Hendee was chosen by the Monitors to serve as their leader for the coming year. The editorial board of the Red and White was headed by Joanna Bartlett, while Susan Smith and Mark Tucker served as feature and news editors respectively. Jim Carroll, for the second year, held the position of sports editor. Mary Prespare ably headed the business board of the paper. In the music department several seniors were awarded positions of honor. Bob Swanson and Joanna Bartlett took over as student director and corresponding secretary, while Tony Abatiell was student director of the band and Ricky Taft, of the chorus. "Double Door," our senior play directed by Mrs. Crowley, was a great success with Peggy Mangan playing the lead. Brenda Hubbard acted as the student director with Linda Ward, business manager. The Talisman Editorial Board elected Betsy Patten editor and Sharon Hostler associate editor of the yearbook. Priscilla Goodspeed headed the Business Board. Charles Lull served in the school's highest office—president of the Student Council. Under the inspired leadership of co-captains Charles Lull and Bob Carrara, the Raiders compiled an excellent 6-2 record on the gridiron. Wayne King, Sam Ezzo, Leo Kupferer, Cecil White, John Anderson, Harry Jones, and John Maynes also received letters. Triple threat Charles Lull, who had his greatest of four seasons, was chosen as the All State quarterback. Irene Burke, Nancy Houghton, Carol Tyler, and Sandy Anderson were varsity cheerleaders. Charles Lull captained the varsity basketball team. Freedom Forum was led by Sharon Hostler, Charles Lull, and Jim Carroll from the high school.

As the curtain descends on four of the most important years of our young lives, we look back with mixed emotions. We have advanced from uncertain, lowly freshmen to take our places as confident leaders of the Rutland High School student body. We have grown in maturity and judgment through these successful years. This growth is due, in great part, to our teachers and administrators, who have always had the time to help and guide us.

CLASS SONG

This is our song,
Our hymn of gladness
For our years of joy and sadness,
Upward, outward growing.
For guidance too, and constant sowing
Of wisdom's seeds and youthful tending,
May they continue, never ending,
Until with life we part.

Now all together,
We stand, united.
Within our hearts is sorrow
As we greet tomorrow.
Before us then, strong, resplendent, clear,
Shines the goal to which we must steer.
As one, we pledge devotion
To those who hold us dear.

Long we'll remember
With each September,
All youth's endeavor,
Inspiring us forever.
And singing here our song, blithe and bold,
Our loved Alma Mater we shall uphold.
Triumphant yet, and lifted,
We journey in its light.

Of all the events recorded by Time, it is often the little incident, the trivial happening, the activity that is just a part of the day's routine, that becomes the richest memory. On these pages the camera man has caught just a few of many such moments that crowd our high school years.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Members of the National Honor Society were seven outstanding seniors, chosen in their junior year for character, scholarship, leadership, and service. They sponsored the annual Oratorical Contest and sold candy at all home basketball games. On March 14 they held the annual assembly to induct new members, at which time an additional five percent of the senior class and five percent of the junior class were chosen. Mr. Sloan is faculty adviser.

GIRLS' AND BOYS' STATE

Last June five girls and eight boys were selected from the Class of 1957 to represent R.H.S. at Girls' and Boys' States. At these mythical states the students carried on model governments for a week. By these experiences they became better acquainted with their state government and learned how to be better citizens.

The Monitor Squad was composed of 28 seniors, chosen by the faculty at the end of their junior year for leadership, responsibility, character, and service. With their faculty adviser, Miss Moran, they met regularly, holding discussions about various traffic problems in the school. Projects included the annual semi-formal dance and several fudge sales. At the final assembly of the year they delegated their responsibilities to a group of capable juniors.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

The International Relations Club sponsored the high school U.N. contest, presented gifts to the Vermont Crippled Children's Society, conducted a Save the Children clothing drive, sponsored an assembly program with a Korean student as speaker, held a dance and a talent show. To become acquainted with foreign countries, the members invited speakers to their meetings and viewed movies about different countries.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

Future Homemakers of America had a most successful year. They held a tea for the faculty, prepared and served a dinner for the National Honor Society, and were hostesses at a state F.H.A. meeting. To earn money for their projects, they held fudge sales throughout the year. Linda Ward attended the national convention in Chicago in the summer of 1956 as a state delegate.

KEY CLUB

Formed this past year to render service to the school and community, the Key Club, under the sponsorship of Mr. Howard Douglas, quickly established itself as one of the most worthwhile organizations in Rutland High School. Its membership comprised 53 boys from the three upper classes. Chief among its projects were the Red Cross, March of Dimes, and Crusade for Freedom drives, all of which were more successful than in previous years. Other activities were a ball point pen sale, a candy sale, and a concession at the Rutland Winter Carnival.

Coach Flaitz congratulates Co-captain Lull on his selection to All-State Team.

On September 15, under a cloudless blue sky, the Rutland High School Red Raiders opened the 1956 gridiron season, playing host to the Bennington High School Catamounts. In keeping with preseason prognostications, which billed Dido Flaitz's Raiders as one of the powers in the state, the Redmen trounced the Cats 20-7. Co-captains Chuck Lull and Bob Carrara, along with tackle Sam Ezzo and halfback Wayne King, played an outstanding ball game.

The victory was a fitting climax to Homecoming Day, an event common in collegiate circles, but new at Rutland High School. Set aside to honor former coaches, players, and alumni, the occasion was a huge success, because of an overwhelming response from students and alumni alike. A motorcade, which encircled the field, was followed by introductions of two former Raider coaches, Attorney Harold O'Brien and Mr. Ellery Purdy, and other dignitaries. Mr. Edwin Lawrence, class of 1897, and Mrs. Frank Everett, class of 1891, were crowned as the royal couple. The Rutland band then performed a series of colorful drills and formations. A gala halftime performance was put on by Mr. Dean Rippon and his troupe of clowns. It is hoped that this will be an annual event.

The following week the Raiders defeated a strong Cathedral High team by a 13-0 margin. The cost of victory was great, however, for Co-captain Bob Carrara suffered a shoulder injury which benched him for the next two games.

Undaunted, the Warriors crushed the Crimson Tide of Spaulding 26-6 on the following Saturday. The Northerners were powerless as the smooth-working Raider machine ground out 230 yards in the first half, while holding their rivals to a meager 20. Speedy halfback Wayne King was the big gun in the Raider attack as he scored three of the four touch downs and gained a total of 111 yards. Second and third teams operated for the Redmen almost all of the second half.

With excitement running at a high fever, the undefeated Raiders met the similarly unbeaten Bellows Falls Terriers in a rough, hard fought game on the next Saturday. For three quarters it was a scoreless contest with neither club being able to launch a sustained drive. However, in the final period, Terrier end Jim Stack burst into the Raider backfield and deflected an aerial intended for Chuck Lull high into the air. The ball and the outcome of the game settled into the arms of Stack as he raced 50 yards for the touchdown.

This heartbreak was avenged the following week by a 25-20 victory over the Brattleboro Colonels. Though the halftime whistle left the Raiders trailing 7-6, they came roaring back in the second half to bring their season's record to four wins and one defeat.

October 20 saw the Warriors lose their second and final contest of the season, as a fiery Springfield club upset the favored Rutlanders 14-13. This win marked the first Springfield win over Rutland in ten years.

The loss to Springfield proved to be the stimulus needed to beat Burlington, as the Raiders downed the Sea Horses 31-14 on muddy, rain-swept South Park in the Queen City. With Wayne King scoring three touchdowns, the Raiders rolled up a 25-0 halftime lead. With this decisive lead, Coach Flaitz rested his regulars in the last half.

Enthusiasm rose to a seasonal high as November 12 saw the twenty-third renewal of the crosstown rivalry between Rutland High School and Mount Saint Joseph. The Mounties, having their best season in recent years, were determined to upset the powerful Redmen.

The Acads' dream of beating the Flaitzmen in this Veteran's Day classic, however, was quickly shattered as Charlie Lull scored his first of three touchdowns before many of the spectators had reached their seats. Lull, who also converted three times, made his final appearance in a Rutland uniform one of his greatest in his four years on the gridiron.

Speedy halfback Wayne King, who also finished his fourth year of varsity football, scored the remaining touchdown on a one-yard slant off tackle.

Junior Dave Stowell, even though he failed to score, played a tremendous game from the fullback slot. It was Dave who ground out most of the yardage during the first half and set up all four touchdowns.

Senior linemen Sam Ezzo, Co-captain Bob Carrara, Cecil White, Leo Kupferer, John Maynes, and John Anderson played a great game as they opened wide holes for the Raider backs and held the Green Wave to a total of 21 yards rushing.

After the curtain fell on the gridiron season, the squad elected Bob Sawyer and Bundsie Keefe co-captains for the 1957 season.

The dream of every football player, that of being named to the All-State team, was realized by four members of the Raiders. Triple threat Charlie Lull was named captain and quarterback of the All-State eleven, while Wayne King, Sam Ezzo, and Bob Sawyer received honorable mention in the balloting by the sportswriters and coaches.

Jumping off to a fast start, the Red Raiders compiled a 6-2 pre-season record before leveling off with a 7-7 slate in Southern Vermont League play. By finishing fourth at the close of the League season, the Redmen gained a tournament berth. Final tabulations gave them a 14-11 record for the season.

Senior Jim Burke paced the Raiders in the scoring department with 274 points. Following him was the team's leading rebounder, Bernie Mangan, with 245 tallies. Rounding out the first five were Bundsie Keefe, Bob Sawyer, and Captain Chuck Lull, who ripped the cords for 233, 161, and 129 respectively. Burke finished tenth in S.V.L. scoring, with Mangan one notch below him.

For the third straight year the Redmen met defeat at the hands of Springfield in the opening game of the tournament, this year by a 61-43 margin. Although losing by 18 points, at the end of three quarters of play the Raiders trailed one of the best Springfield teams in years by only two points. Jim Burke led the Redmen with 15 counters, while Bob Sawyer and Bernie Mangan grabbed most of the Rutland rebounds. Charlie Lull and Bundsie Keefe were great as they broke up the smooth-working Cosmos attack all night.

Although the Raiders lose four seniors, Burke, Lull, Pete Franzoni, and John Anderson, three starters will return for next season. With Mangan, Keefe, and Sawyer forming the nucleus, Coach Keefe will have juniors Walt Scott, Ernie Ruppe, and Bob Donahue, all of whom saw action this year.

The Junior Varsity, under the tutelage of Coach Lloyd Flaitz, compiled an impressive 15-8 record. Back court men Brad Plumb and Don Gilman, along with Bob Donahue, who operated from the pivot, all had fine seasons. On the basis of their fine play, they will undoubtedly be promoted to the varsity next season. Bob Stearns, Chuck Bowen, and Dave Pratt will also have to be reckoned with when next year's varsity is chosen. Others on the team were Bob Bordeau, Tim Russell, and Gilbert Stearns.

CHEER LEADERS

This year, the Varsity cheering squad consisted of three junior and four senior girls. Spurring on the Junior Varsity team were two squads of peppy freshman and sophomore girls, who alternated in cheering at the games.

The ski team, under the guidance of Coaches Stoodley and Hebert, enjoyed a very successful year. Concentrating on the slalom and downhill events, the Raider boardmen won all the meets that they entered. Led by Captain Rick Taft, Terry Fletcher, Bob Hiller, Kim Chaffee, Mike Bartenstein, and Mike Gallagher, the Rutland team also included Ed Durgin, Jay Abernethy, Jim Maynes, Ed Sobotka, Bob Morgan, Chris Oakman, and Paul Hughes. With only two seniors, Taft and Bartenstein, being lost by graduation, next year's Raider team shows great promise.

The boys look puzzled over the problem of trying to get in some practice on the grass-covered athletic field.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The Editors of the 1957 TALISMAN express their sincere gratitude to all those who have helped to make this yearbook possible and in particular to Mrs. Katherine Hinchey, for her guidance, encouragement, and unfailing help.

Mr. Lewis McKerley, whose sound business judgment has been responsible for its financial success.

Mr. Norm Porter, for his inexhaustible patience and his excellent photography throughout the book.

Mr. William Bartlett, for the high quality of the photographs in the Advertising Section.

Miss Lucy Doane, for her advice and constructive criticism of the art work.

Mr. Arthur Flynn and T. O'Toole and Sons, Inc., for their helpfulness and excellent service.

The Staff for their many hours of diligent work.

Our Patrons and Patronesses and Advertisers, without whose financial support we could not have produced this book.

Sincerely,

GRACE PATTEN, Editor-in-Chief,

SHARON HOSTLER, Associate Editor.
